

Wednesday evening

Hello There —

May I drop in for a few minutes this evening? D.S. fine - Where is the Popcorn Popper - Ah - now that we have a big pan of buttered corn let's pull the cord on the lights and sit and listen to the "hit Parade" while we eat corn; alright now don't tantalize you any further. Very well but you know that it is impossible for this old fellow to get along without tantalizing someone or some thing.

When I read that yellow Mission news last night I got a lot of good out of it. Some of my companions are in every theatre of war -

My first companion and a J.M. that labored in Minneapolis evidentially got married because the Paper said their first child was born about 1 month ago.
Ross B Denham - and Clara Parker
They have been out of the Mission field about 3½ years maybe four -

I received the letter that you ^{wrote} sent Sunday evening but the other letter that you spoke of hasn't arrived as yet. But as I said before the clippers came through with or in good shape

This next few days we will be out in the field for two nights or one I don't know for sure - Some Co. have been out 2 already So I don't know for sure -

Well I aim to have a barbering job in a short time may even trade jobs with the old boy over the way so I sign off for now with lots of love to you and the boy Remember quite Edmund -
